Invitation to the Forum Meeting on 15th July at 2.00 pm, at ASCA House, corner of Barney and Markham Streets, Armidale. Visitors are welcome.

Our speaker will be David Carr and his topic will be:

“Chasing Fairy Bells”

Over the last five years Dave has been working on the endangered shrub Homoranthus darwinioides (Fairy Bells), documenting associated vegetation communities and monitoring changes following bushfires. He will also talk about the horticultural potential of the species and discuss other Homoranthus species found in our region.

Dave is Director and Chief Ecologist of Stringybark Ecological.

He has worked for Greening Australia, Southern New England Landcare, Catchment Management Authorities and as a consultant in senior positions for the last 30 years. He is a specialist in ecological restoration, extension theory and practise, farm forestry and bushland management.

The rooms will be open at 2.00pm – entry on Barney Street.

The talk will start promptly at 2.15pm. Afterwards there will be time to look at the array of currently flowering native plants from members’ gardens, join in the raffle of native plants and enjoy afternoon tea and a chat.

Please email if you are coming for catering purposes.
